THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS APPLY EITHER TO YOU OR YOUR PARENT WHO INDICATED A SEPARATED STATUS ON YOUR AID APPLICATION. "Separated" means leaving a spouse due to marital problems. Since separations may or may not be permanent, we must have a response from you to these questions before we will offer you financial aid based on this new status. Provide documentation that might include statements from your spouse, legal documents, or other appropriate information. Please attach additional comments if necessary.

1. On what date did you become separated from your spouse? Why do you consider it a "separation"?

2. What are the financial arrangements for yourself and/or your children during this separation? Such things as spousal support, housing, child support, and money for educational expenses for yourself and/or your children and the division of assets need to be addressed.

3. What is the current status of the separation? As far as you can predict, what will happen with this separation? If divorcing, please list the date you expect the divorce to be final.

4. What is your estranged or ex-spouse's street address?

5. Other comments you wish to make?
